I. Emergencies

1. What to do in an Emergency

(1) Fire (dial 119)

● Instructions

1. Dial 119
2. Say “kaji desu” (“There’s a fire”) and give your name and address.
3. If possible, try to put out the fire before the fire engine arrives. However, remember your first priority is always your own safety, so do not attempt to fight the fire if it is dangerous to do so.

(2) Serious Injury or Sudden Illness (dial 119)

● Instructions

1. Dial 119
2. Say “kyuukyuu desu” (“It’s an emergency”) or “kyuubyou desu” (“sudden illness”) and give your name and address.
3. If possible, have your health insurance documents ready before the ambulance arrives.

(3) Traffic Accident, Accident, or Crime (dial 110)

● Instructions

1. Dial 110
2. Say “dorobou desu” (“There was a thief”) or “jiko desu” (“There was an accident”). Give your name and address, and details of when, where, and what happened.

(4) Earthquakes

Japan is a country prone to earthquakes. The Hanshin-Awaji Earthquake of 1995 was an invaluable lesson in which countless precious lives and property were lost in an instant. It is important to be prepared mentally and materially for earthquakes, no matter where or when they may occur, so that losses are kept to a minimum.

● Everyday Measures

1. Check where the safest place in your house/apartment is.
2. Store enough drinking water – 2-3 litres per person, per day.
3. Prepare a rucksack or emergency bag and store it in a place familiar to everyone in the family. Example of items to put in the rucksack / emergency bag: (a) flashlight and batteries, (b) drinking water and food, (c) portable radio (d) money (including some ¥10 coins for using a public telephone), (e) copies of identification materials such as passports and bankbooks, etc., and other valuables, (f) matches, lighter and candles, (g) a first-aid kit (including medicine for those requiring regular medication), (h) a helmet or other protective headwear, (i) cotton work gloves, socks and underwear, (j) heat insulating and waterproof blankets, (k) rope, etc.
4. Use metal fittings to secure furniture and prevent it from falling over.
5. Use shatter-prevention film on windows, cupboards, shelves, etc. where glass is used.
6. Make a note of emergency contact telephone numbers and the contact details of someone who can communicate in your language.
7. Confirm where your nearest emergency shelter and hospital are and how to get there. Inquire at your city, town or village office to confirm the whereabouts of your nearest emergency shelter.

● When an Earthquake Occurs

1. Ensure your personal safety and get to the nearest safe place.
2. Switch off the gas, and all gas cookers, etc. in use. Switch off all appliances, such as cooking and heating appliances that may cause a fire. If a fire breaks out, extinguish it immediately with the nearest fire extinguisher.
3. Open all doors including the front door to ensure a clear escape route.
4. Try to listen to the TV and radio regularly, or telephone for earthquake information.
5. Do not rush out of a building. Wait until the earthquake has temporarily stopped, then get your emergency bag, put on a helmet or other protective head covering and make your way to an open space.
6. Try not to become separated from family members or neighbours. Check you are all together and make your way as quickly as possible to a shelter.
7. If you are driving, avoid breaking suddenly. Reduce your speed slowly and move over to the left shoulder of the road. Do not park the car next to a gasoline station or high-pressure gas facility, or under a pedestrian bridge.

8. If you are walking along a wide road, move out to the centre. If downtown, be careful of falling objects such as signs, telegraph poles and glass from windows, etc.

● After an Earthquake

After an earthquake, there is the danger of after-shocks and tsunami. If possible, get accurate information from the radio, newspaper, television, etc. If you find you cannot return to your residence after a big earthquake, inform your country's embassy or consulate, your place of employment or school of the safety of both you and your family.

● Saigai-yo Dengon Dial (Telephone message service in times of disaster) (Tel. 171)

When a disaster occurs, it is often difficult to make phone calls to the affected area. In such circumstances, use the Saigai-yo Dengon Dial service (telephone message service in times of disaster). People outside the area can listen to recorded messages made by those in the affected area regarding their safety, etc. It is like a voice recorded message board. Similarly, people outside the area can send messages to people in the affected area.

Notification of the introduction of the NTT Saigai-yo Dengon Dial service is made on the radio and television, etc. You use the service by dialing 171 and following the guidance in Japanese to record or listen to messages.

(5) Typhoons and Floods

● Being prepared for Typhoons and Floods

In Japan, there are many typhoons from summer through autumn that bring strong winds and torrential rain which can cause landslides and flood damage. To be prepared for such strong winds and floods, the following points should be given attention.

1. Your residence should be fully inspected. In order to keep damage to a minimum, repairs and reinforcements should be carried out.
2. Window glass, etc. should be reinforced with gum or vinyl tape. If there are shutters, they should be closed.
3. Boxes, flowerpots and other objects in the garden or on the balcony should be fastened or taken into the house to prevent them from being blown around by strong winds.
4. Television antennas etc. should be reinforced with splints, wire, etc.
5. Clear drains, shores and water tubs of any dirt and debris to ensure good drainage.

6. If you live in a lowland area or in an area where flooding is possible, you should place furniture and electrical appliances as high as possible.
7. In the event of a blackout (electric power failure), have a flashlight, portable radio, etc. in a set place familiar to each member of the family.
8. Keep things you need to take with you in an emergency in a convenient place.
9. Confirm where the nearest disaster shelter is and how to get there. Confirm whether or not your residence is in a safe district. Information can be found in the Kiken Kasho Zu (Danger Zones Map) at your city, town or village office, fire department office or civil engineering department (names may vary depending on district) concerning the location of disaster shelters and the threat of heavy rain-induced landslides in certain areas.

● If a typhoon comes

1. Do not go out in strong winds. If you must go out, wear a helmet or thick hat.
2. Do not go near fallen utility poles or sagging cables.
3. Pay close attention to weather forecasts. If a warning to evacuate the area is given, evacuate as quickly as possible. Families with elderly or sick persons or infants should evacuate early.

● Risai Shomei-sho (Disaster Victim Certificate)

It is necessary to have a Risai Shomei-sho (Disaster Victim Certificate) when applying for tax deductions or a tax reprieve for victims of storms and floods.

Application forms for a Risai Shomei-sho may be obtained at city, town or village offices or from a fire department.

2. How to Call the Emergency Services

● From a green public phone: press the red emergency button and then dial the number

● From a grey public phone or international card phone: just dial 110 or 119

III. Daily Life

1. Housing

It can be difficult to find a house or apartment in Japan, and contracts can be very complicated with many terms and conditions. If you are looking for somewhere to live, it is probably best to get somebody who can speak Japanese to help you.

(1) How to find Housing

● Who to contact:

1. Prefecture Managed Housing:
Tokushima Prefecture Housing Division Tel: 088-621-2590
2. City / Town / Village Managed Housing:
Officer in charge of Housing at municipal office
3. Privately Managed Housing:
Estate agent or real estate magazine

(2) General Expenses When Moving to a New Residence

Example of expenses in Tokushima:

1. Deposit: This is usually equivalent to three months' rent. The landlord keeps this deposit as insurance against non-payment of rent, the cost of repairs etc. When your contract finishes, part of the deposit may be returned, or you may have to pay extra, depending on the cost of repairs, etc.
2. Key money: Usually equivalent to one month's rent. This is a non-returnable payment to the landlord when you move in.
3. Agency fee: Usually equivalent to one month's rent. If the housing contract is made through an estate agent, this fee is paid to the agency.
4. Rent and residents' fees: Monthly charge for rent of your apartment, and joint costs such as electricity and cleaning of the communal areas of the building.

Note:

- A. Depending on whether housing is privately or publicly owned, costs may differ from the above example. The basic pattern also varies in different parts of Japan.
- B. Alterations and extensions should not be made without the landlord's permission.
- C. At least one month's notice must be given if you wish to cancel your contract.

2. Electricity, Gas and Water

● When you move in:

1. Contact the nearest service centre and give your name, address, and the date from when you wish to start using the service.
2. Payment of bills can be made through an automatic transfer from your bank account, or in person at a bank or post office.

●When you move out:

1. Contact the nearest service centre and tell them the date from when you wish to cancel the service.
2. Confirm the cost and payment method for the period just before you move out, and make sure you pay before you leave. (This will not be a problem if you set up a bank transfer account that will stay open.)

(1) Electricity

To start receiving electricity, contact the electric company and switch the circuit breaker on your switchboard to 入 (on).

3. Garbage Disposal

Most cities, towns and villages in Tokushima Prefecture have a garbage separating system, but the system varies in different areas. Make sure you separate your garbage in the correct way, and leave it at the specified collection point on the specified days and times. For large items of garbage such as furniture, you must contact the municipal office and arrange to have the item collected. By law, to dispose of a large electrical appliance – refrigerator, air conditioning unit, television, or washing machine – you must arrange for it to be collected by an electrical store.

(There is a charge for this service.)

4. Telephone

IV. Medical and Health

1. Basic Knowledge about Medical Facilities

Have a Family Doctor

It is important to have a family doctor who has a clinic in your neighbourhood with whom you can consult whenever necessary. You should first visit a clinic in your area for an examination upon showing mild symptoms. If you have a serious illness or symptoms of which the cause is unknown, the doctor will refer you to a specialist hospital that can offer specialist treatment.

General Points to consider in hospitals and clinics

1. If you are worried about language problems, use an interpreter service.
2. If there is something you do not understand, ask immediately.
3. Ask the doctor to explain such things as test results and methods of taking medication as easily as possible until you understand.
4. Do not be late for appointments or consultation times.
5. Do not use a mobile phone or PHS phone inside a hospital or clinic.
6. Consult with the hospital in regards to inpatient costs, items you do not understand, services you may use. If there is a social worker at the hospital, consult with the social worker.
7. In Japan, there are many services you must apply for on your own, otherwise you will not be able to make use of them. It is important therefore to know about them. If you want such information, consult a social worker. Since consultation is free and privacy is protected, feel free to consult a social worker or medical facility.

2. The Public Health Insurance System

In principle, all Japanese residents are covered by public medical insurance. All those who enter the public system are issued with an insurance card (hihokenshasho, commonly know as hokensho). ## 4. Prevention of Infectious Diseases

In Japan, limitations on work, recommendation to enter a hospital for infectious diseases and the disinfecting of one's home is decided by law depending on the type of infectious disease.

Tuberculosis

Though the number of people infected with tuberculosis is fewer than in the past, the disease is the greatest infectious disease in Japan today. If the discovery of the disease is late, the possibility of infecting one's family members and others around the infected individual is high. Receiving tuberculosis health examinations is important. You should receive a tuberculosis health examination at your place of work, school, or at a public health office of the city, ward, town or village where you live.

Venereal Disease

Venereal disease does not only affect the infected person but their family and descendents. To prevent the spread of venereal disease, syphilis serum reaction examinations are provided at public health offices and some medical facilities.

Aids

AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome) is a disease that develops after being infected with HIV. The 3 routes are (1) blood, (2) sexual activity, (3) mother – child infection. Privacy will be protected at public health offices. Free consultation on AIDS and anonymous examinations are available here.

Those who think they might be infected are recommended to receive an examination.

V. Working

1. Looking for Work

In Japan, it is forbidden to discriminate against a person's nationality or religion in respect to pay or working hours, etc. Foreign workers employed in companies and factories are entitled to the same rights as Japanese workers. It is important for a person to know and understand laws and systems related to work.

(1) To be employed in Japan

You must have a status of residence (zairyu shikaku) which allows you to work. The content of the work and activities associated with that work must fall within the limitations of that permit.

(2) Looking for a job in Japan

You can use public employment security offices (kokyo shokugyo antei sho) which are administered by the government (these services are free), use a private employment agency, or use a group which is certified by the Health, Labour and Welfare Ministry (both free services and charged services are available).

(3) Public Employment Security Offices

Public Employment Security Offices are offices administered by the government that offer consultation on and introductions to employment. Public Employment Security Offices are now connected by a computer system, so, job vacancy data from around the country can be obtained on the spot and job introductions made. If you can understand Japanese, please use the nearest Public Employment Security Office.

* For further information, please take someone able to communicate in Japanese.

2. Employment Contracts

(1) Employment Contracts

An employment contract is a contract stating the working conditions between each employee and their employer. The employer must state in writing the working conditions such as pay and working hours, etc. of the employee and give this to them.

Trouble can occur when only a verbal contract is made since there is no evidence of pay terms. It is therefore important to obtain a written contract with as many details as possible. If the contract is written in Japanese, have it translated into your native language and check the contents.

(2) Details that must be stated in an employment contract

- The term of the working contract
- Place of work and work content
- Work start and finish time, the possibility of work outside the specified work hours, rest time, holidays, vacations, etc.
- Pay terms, how it is calculated and method of payment, when it is to be paid, information about pay increases
- Details about retirement

If a company has fixed working regulations ask to see its 'Work Regulations' (shugyo kisoku) and check the contents.

Contact: Local public employment security office (See list in chapter VIII)

* For further information, please take someone able to communicate in Japanese.

3. Wages (Pay)

(1) Method of payment of wages (pay)

To ensure wages are properly paid, wages must, in principle, be paid (1) in money, (2) directly to the individual employee, (3) in full, (4) once or more a month, (5) on a certain day in accordance with the Labour Standards Law (rodo kijun ho).

(2) Minimum Wage

The minimum wage is decided by the Minimum Wage Law (saitei chingin ho).

An employer must pay employees more than the minimum wage. If an employer pays less than the minimum wage, not only will they have to pay the employee the difference, they may also be fined. The minimum wage differs depending on the region and is revised every year. The minimum wage also applies to part-time workers.

(3) If wages are not paid

If wages are not paid, consult a Labour Standards Inspection Office (rodo kijun kantoku sho) or labour enquires office immediately.

Contact: Local public employment security office (See list in chapter VIII)

4. Dismissal and Retirement

(1) What is Work Dismissal?

Work dismissal (kaiko) is the one-sided termination of an employment contract by the employer. An employer must have a rational reason to dismiss an employee. If you are dismissed without a justifiable reason, you should consult a Labour Standards Inspection Office or a labour enquiries office immediately.

●In the case where there is no fixed term of employment

An employer must give at least 30 days notice of dismissal to the employee. If the employer dismisses an employee immediately, the employee must be paid an average wage for 30 days or more as 'notice pay'.

●In the case where there is a fixed term of employment

An employer cannot dismiss an employee during the term of the employment contract except under unavoidable circumstances. Even under unavoidable circumstances, the employer needs to give 30 days or more notice or pay 'notice pay'.

●If you are dissatisfied with your dismissal

If you are dissatisfied with your dismissal, you should express your dissatisfaction with your employer and have the employer issue a 'Proof of Resignation' (taishoku shomei sho) to clarify the reason for the termination of the contract, whether it was a dismissal or resignation. If you are not satisfied with the employer's reason for dismissal, you should consult a Labour Centre (rodo center), a lawyer or some trustworthy enquiry office. If you think your dismissal breaks the Labour Standards Law, consulting a Labour Standards Office is also possible.

(2) Resignation (taishoku)

If the employee makes a request to resign and the employer agrees, the employment relationship is terminated by a mutually agreed contract. An employee with no fixed term of employment can leave the company 2 weeks after the date of their notification of resignation even if the employer does not agree with the resignation.

If the employee is working under a fixed term of employment, they cannot ask to terminate the contract during the fixed term except under unavoidable circumstances. If an employer agrees to an employee's resignation, the employee, in principle, cannot withdraw their resignation request. It is important to be careful when requesting resignation

In the case of resignation, if the employee demands, unpaid wages can be paid within seven days. Savings, wages and other money you have a claim to can also be returned. The employee must return to the employer any company ID cards, uniforms lent to them, and their health insurance card by the date stated in the 'working rules'.

5. Working Hours

(1) Legal Working Hours

Working hours according to The Labour Standards Law are, in general, the hours worked under the supervision and direction of the employer. If preparation for work, tidying up after work, and training are done under the direction of the employer, this time is considered to be within working hours.

Working hours are, in principle, 40 hours per week excluding break-time and within 8 hours per day. For small-size businesses (under 10 people), movie and theatre businesses, health and hygiene businesses and entertainment/amusement businesses which deal with customers as a special measure, working hours are 44 hours per week.

(2) Break-Time

Employers must give 45 minutes break-time for work over 6 hours and 1 hour break-time for work over 8 hours. The break-time must be given during working hours. This break-time must be given to all employees at the same time. Employees must be free to use this time as they wish. (This excludes certain businesses and industries where a written agreement is made.) There are also laws concerning pay for overtime work, extra pay, pay for holidays and vacations.

Employers collect taxes from their employees' salaries every year for the period January 1 to December 31. However, people who are self-employed must calculate their income, as well as calculate and pay their own income tax.

Furthermore, its position places it almost squarely in the middle of the island of Shikoku. The City was formed in March 2006 in a town merger of the former towns of Mino, Ikawa, Ikeda, Yamashiro, Nishi Iya and Higashi Iya to form the largest municipal district in Tokushima Prefecture at over 721.48km<sup>2</sup>. However, almost 90% of its land is covered in mountains, the remainder divided by the Yoshino River the runs through it, making it a vibrant city area of some 34,103 people.

A: Events

1: The Shiozuka Highlands Open Burning (Spring)

The Shiozuka Peaks on the border of Ehime and Tokushima are home to wide grass plains that are commonly known as the Shiozuka Highlands. A controlled burning of dead foliage in preparation for the coming of spring is held there each year on the first Saturday in April to preserve the natural surroundings. The orange flames create an eerie light in the sky that call many amateur photographers to see the display.

Ikeda Awa Odori (Summer)

The pinnacle of Tokushima's traditional events, Awa Odori, is danced not only in Tokushima City but all throughout the prefecture. In Ikeda it is held in front of the JR Awa Ikeda station from August 14 - 16 each year and is visited by over 100,000 from in and outside the prefecture. Many dancing groups from the Prefecture's west come to dance here and compete with one another, the festivities lasting all day and all night long!

The Iya Heike Festival (Autumn)

The East and West Iya Valley areas are well known for tales and traditions of the ancient Heike people, and each year in the last weeks of October the Iya Heike Festival is held in their honour. Nearly 100 people dress up in ancient Heian Era clothing and form a procession, and participate in the jindai dance, one of the countries intangible cultural assets. The Iya Noodle eating contest that follows is also very popular, and the Iya Vine Bridge nearby is a thrilling experience out in the midst of the beautiful autumn leaves.

The International Shikoku Snowball Fight (Winter)

Two teams battle each other with balls of snow in this event, taking the game many people play in their younger years and turning it into an international tournament. The Shikoku tournament is held in the East Iya Valley area, and calls many teams from across Shikoku to challenge one another for the right to participate in the national Hokkaido match. Passing beyond a mere child's game, this serious sport has its own set of rules and is gathering a lot of attention.

B: History

Hashikura Temple, National Cultural Treasure (Miyoshi City Ikeda-cho Shuzu Kuratani 1006)

The six wings of this large temple complex have been designated as national culture treasures. In Spring and Autumn, almost 20 monks walk the long steps of the temple and hold a ceremony to ward off bad luck.

The Iya Vine Bridge (Kazura Bashi), National Cultural Treasure

A vine bridge harking back to the days of the Heike in the west Iya valley area, made from over 5 tonnes of shirakuchi vines! The bridge is 45m long, 2m wide and stands 14m above the valley floor below. It is remade every three years! In the East Iya Valley area there is another vine bridge known as the Oku Iya Vine Bridge, and an area where two bridges can be found together known as the Double Vine Bridge. The two bridges, standing amongst beautiful mountain areas, provide a slightly different perspective on their surroundings accorded to them by their different heights, making them a popular tourist destination.

Higashi Iya Valley Ochiai, National Cultural Treasure

Standing in the Iyagawa river area, this village lies on the steep slopes of the mountains nearby. Possessed of a unique environment and many fields on the slopes, this village area retains a feeling of mountain villages now long since lost to most of Japan. The houses and buildings in this area reflect the old traditions of the people who lived here long ago, and while many were built in the early Showa Era (1925 -), houses built in the middle of the edo era (1600 -) are also abundant.

Unben Temple, No 66 on the Shikoku 88 Temple Pilgrimage (Miyoshi-shi Ikeda-cho Hakuchi Norouchi 763-2)

With over 1200 years of history, this temple has a long-held reputation as a place for study and training. It can be found 927m above seal level, earning it the rightful place of being the highest temple in all of Shikoku. Standing on the border of Tokushima and Kagawa, it can be reached from Tokushima by car or foot, and can be reached by ropeway from Kagawa. Furthermore, its place as a temple on the Shikoku 88 Temple Pilgrimage draws many travellers throughout the year.

Bukeyashiki Kitake (Miyoshi City Higashi Iya Daiki 43)

This former home to a warrior is the largest of its kind in the Iya valley region, made some 240 years ago in 1763. Heike warriors fleeing from defeat in the battle of Yashima came here to the Iya valley, and this house became one of the estates higher up in the valley. It is said that the owner Taira no Kunimori planted Hokosugi here in the gardens long ago, and they still remain today. With 11m in diameter and 50m in height, it is said to be the second largest in all Shikoku, and has a history of over 800 years.

C: Environment

The Mt. Tsurugi National Park

At 1955m in height, Mt. Tsurugi is the second tallest mountain in west Japan following Mt. Ishizuchi in Ehime prefecture, and has also been selected as one of the most famous 100 mountains of Japan. From its peaks you can see far into the surrounds, out to the Seto Inland Sea to the north, across Kochi to the Ashizuri Peninsula, making it one of the greatest views on Shikoku. The three hundred year old beech trees here make for a magnificent sight, and many people travel here in spring and autumn to climb the mountain. The legend behind its name is that the sword of emperor Antoku is hidden in the mountain, and the mountain is widely believed to have its own spiritual presence.

Shimokage no Tanada

These rice terraces are adapted to fit the local mountainous land formations, and have a long history. Some of these terraces have a reputation as being views from ancient Japan, and many photographers come here to see the quaint mountain village atmosphere.

The Kurozo Marshes

The marshes here are surrounding by mountains on all directions, and stand at a height of 550m above sea level. With a width of around 300m, and over 2km from north to south, the marshes form a long, slender piece of land that ends in a sharp drop to the south. Created by the trapped flow of water from nearby falls, the southern extreme is where the water slowly trickles out. In summer the area is filled with bright green grass, whose long stalks poke elegantly from the ground and make it a popular destination for travellers.

Many other kinds of water-based plants can be found here, such as sphagnum palustre, pogonia, etc.

Oboke Kobo

The rocky cliffs along the valley here looks almost like a sculpture. In spring the area is decorated with cherry blossoms and Asian house martin, while in autumn the clean river collects bright red and orange leaves from the nearby deciduous trees. A ride down the river here is never dull! Some 3km downriver from the Oboke is the Kobo, a smaller-scale version of the Oboke gorge area. Don't be mistaken, however, as what it lacks in size it makes up for in beauty!

D: Culture

1: Leisure Facilities

The Kenko to Fureai no Mori Campgrounds (Miyoshi City Mino-cho Shibo 1342-3)
